Trinity College Pathways School Course Credit Policy Statement

Overview

Trinity College is an affiliated College of the University of Melbourne. The Pathways School consists of the Trinity College Foundation Studies program, the Young Leaders program and other short programs and conferences.

The College reserves the right to review and make changes to this Policy from time to time.

Scope

This Policy covers all students studying in the Trinity College Foundation Studies program, conducted by the Pathways School.

Background

Trinity College Pathways School (TCPS) runs one single Foundation Studies program that provides a pathway to University of Melbourne or other Higher Education institutions, depending upon a student's final grades.

In accordance with the National Code Part D, Standard 12 a provider should have documented procedures for granting and recording course credit.

Definitions

Course credit is defined as an 'Exemption from enrolment in a particular part of the course as a result of previous study, experience or recognition of a competency currently held. Includes academic credit and recognition of prior learning.'

Policy

TCPS does not grant course credit and therefore Standard 12 does not apply.
